Letters of Recommendation

Your student should ask a teacher or counselor who knows them best. Give them a resume and any information that will help them write a specific letter about your student and help them stand out among the other applicants. Give them at least two weeks to a month before the letter is due!

LDS Missionary or Military Service

If your student plans to serve an LDS mission or serve in the military directly out of high school, they should still apply for admission and scholarships now. Once your student has been accepted and/or received a scholarship they should accept and then contact the school about deferring their admission and scholarships until after their service.
